

PREPARE TO GET AMERICANS OUT OF DANGER ZONE

Evacuation If Necessary
Is Plan By U. S. Consular Officials

"STRONG MAN" SAYS ITS "FIGHT TO DEATH"

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-
Shek Says Invasion
Be Resisted

By The Associated Press.

SHANGHAI, August 5.—United States consular officials in all China organized the whole American population for the exigency of evacuation tonight to guard their lives and get them out of possible danger zones if necessary while China's generalissimo, Chiang Kai-Shek, suddenly proclaimed:

"We will fight to the death."

By night fall the month-old undeclared war brought these developments.

1. Columns of motorized Japanese troops rolled north to halt a Chinese advance from behind China's great wall.

2. Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek, China's "strongman" leader of the general government, flew to Kuling to tell the nation's chief educators that China will resist the Japanese advance "even though it means fighting inadequately prepared and to the death."

3. American missionaries, recalling previous Japanese conquests, feared Japanese domination of north China would wipe out missionary and education work representing millions of dollars in American investments, and years of the hardest toil.

4. Consul General Clarence Gauss at Shanghai directed formation of an American residents' emergency committee to safeguard lives of 4,000 Americans there. Similar committees were started by the 2,000 Americans in Chekiang and Anhwei provinces, and by officials elsewhere.

The committee attempted to establish communication with all Americans in the area, and issued instructions on the procedure of concentration if the crisis reaches Shanghai. Means of evacuation to safer districts, if necessary, were outlined. Other consular districts took similar precautions.

Ships Are Available

It was emphasized that the activities followed a long established formula in all American communities in China for use when needed. Gauss said the organization did not indicate that the emergency was considered imminent.

(The United States navy has available 39 ships in far eastern waters. They could be used to protect or evacuate Americans from danger zones.)

5. General Chiang met with ministers and army commanders in emergency session at Nanking after his flight to Kuling.

6. In Tokyo the Japanese war minister told parliament he is preparing further "unitive measures" against Chinese, and warned the Japanese diet to be prepared for an emergency session to provide additional funds.

Automobiles carried Japanese troops through Peiping to the north and along hilly roads to ward heavily fortified Chinese positions at Nankow Pass. The Japanese reported their warplanes were bombing Chinese troops near Kailan to halt all advance into Hopeh.

As the columns moved through Peiping, two American photographers

GRAVE DIGGERS DELAY BURIALS

KANSAS CITY, Aug. 5.—(AP)—A strike of grave diggers halted burial of the dead in Kansas City today.

Mortuary receiving vaults and cemetery abbeys and mausoleums were used as temporary shelter for 10 bodies whose funerals were arranged for today.

The grave diggers, members of an American Federation of Labor affiliate, ordered pickets to the city's cemeteries to prevent any attempts of non-union men to do the work. Their demands included a closed shop, union recognition, a 20-cent-an-hour wage increase and an eight-hour day. Approximately 150 men were affected by the strike.

SHOULD BE ABLE TO SEE COMET TONIGHT

By The Associated Press.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Missourians should be able to see Finster's comet, the newest astronomical discovery, with the naked eye tonight and for possibly five additional nights.

Dr. Jessica Young Stephens, assistant professor of astronomy at Washington university, said the comet, now approaching maximum brilliance, should be visible in the northern sky, about half way up an imaginary line from the pointers of the Big Dipper to the Pole star.

HORSTS TURN TO COURTS SEEKING CHILD'S CUSTODY

Unlikely any Charges Be Filed In "Kidnaping"
at Chicago

By The Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 5.—Otto and Martha Horst turned to the courts today, hoping to win permanent custody of the dark-haired boy they cherished as their own since infancy and who was taken from them Tuesday in what police first believed to be a kidnapping.

The 20-month-old boy, Donald, was being cared for at St. Vincent's orphanage pending settlement of the dispute between the Horsts and the young man and woman who told authorities Donald was their son and admitted taking him forcibly from Mrs. Horst.

Donald was surrendered to Assistant State's Attorney W. F. Crowley yesterday by the abductors, John Regan and Lydia Nelson, who said they had entrusted the boy to the Horsts at birth because of lack of money. Crowley said the Horsts admitted this was true.

The prosecutor said it was unlikely any charges would be filed against anyone but there was a possibility Fred Ewert, accused of driving the car in which Donald was taken from the Horst home, might be questioned if found. Police said Ewert, missing since the time of the snatching, had a criminal record.

"I'm sure Donald will be back here playing with all his toys tonight," Mrs. Horst said cheerfully after discussing plans to have an attorney start legal proceedings at once to regain the child.

The boy appeared to enjoy his new surroundings, but mention of "mama" started him crying. He sobbed in his crib until he fell asleep last night.

Indicate Fight for Child

While not showing any animosity toward the Horsts, Miss Nelson, 25-year-old common law wife of the machinist, indicated she would fight for the child.

"My heart aches," Mrs. Horst told her. "I want that child. Won't you give him to me? We'll take care of him."

"I've had a lot of heartaches myself," Miss Nelson replied. "He's my child and I'm entitled to him."

"We can take better care of him," suggested Mrs. Horst, whose husband is part owner of a sound equipment manufacturing concern.

"Well, I admit you've done pretty well for him," Regan replied. He said they hesitated several minutes before deciding to take the boy after having seen how the Horsts were caring for him.

Crowley said Miss Nelson told him that although she tried for more than two years to find the baby, it was only ten days ago that she learned the Horsts had him.

"John and I knew it would be hopeless to ask the Horsts to give up the baby. So we decided just to take him. We didn't think Mrs. Horst would make a fuss, knowing the circumstances of the child's birth."

Crowley said his investigation revealed Donald was born to Miss Nelson Jan. 6, 1935, and that the mother agreed to let the physician, Dr. John A. Rose, place the infant with a "wealthy man." Believing the adoption only temporary, the Regans signed no papers. The doctor then arranged transfer of the infant to the Horsts.

The prosecutor said a birth certificate showing the Horsts as the parents had been filed.

DENIES OPPOSING ROAD BUILDING

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 5.—Matt F. Morse, secretary of the Automobile Club of Missouri, denied today the club was opposed to the farm-to-market road construction program as Gov. Lloyd C. Stark was reported to have asserted recently.

Morse issued a statement in which he pointed out that the club originated the farm-to-market program in 1926 and supported the campaign which resulted in such construction being approved in 1928.

A controversy between Gov. Stark and Morse has developed over a proposal for a referendum on the governor's measure increasing the state gasoline tax from 2 to 3 cents a gallon. Morse today claimed that nine out of ten of the club's members who reside outside of St. Louis, more than half the membership, were opposed to the tax increase.

FOR STIFFER TAXES ON THE PERSONAL HOLDING CONCERNS

Recommended By The Senate-House Tax
Committee

MOVE TO AVERT TAX AVOIDANCE

Steps Proposed To Prevent Wealthy Reducing Returns

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—A senate house tax committee recommended today drastic increases in domestic personal holding company taxes as one means of preventing tax avoidance.

The committee, proposing for enactment at this session a $100,000,000 eight-point program of legislation to plug income tax leaks, also recommended an innovation in the taxation of foreign personal holding companies.

It suggested that undistributed net income of such companies should be figured in the gross income of the American owners of the companies just as if it actually had been distributed to them.

Treasury officials, who cooperated with the joint committee in making an investigation which brought in the names of many prominent citizens, estimated roughly that enactment of the committee's recommendations would mean an increase of $100,000,000 in federal revenues.

In addition to the domestic and foreign personal holding company proposals the committee recommended stiffer tax treatment for the following methods used by wealthy persons to reduce their taxes: Incorporated yachts and country estate, incorporation of personal talents (such as acting) artificial deductions for interest and business expense, multi-trusts, non-resident aliens, and artificial deductions for losses from sales or exchanges of property.

The committee report to the house and senate followed an investigation extending over several weeks and undertaken at the request of President Roosevelt. The President said in a message to congress that a comparatively small number of wealthy persons was reducing tax payments by methods which he considered should be checked by legislation.

During the investigation the President's son, James, who also is one of his father's secretaries, appeared on the witness stand to deny that he ever had been connected with a foreign personal holding company, a connection which had been hinted at by Representative Fish (R-NY).

Among many prominent Americans named in committee hearings as having availed themselves of tax reduction methods were William Randolph Hearst, publisher; Jacob Ruppert, New York brewer and baseball magnate; C. F. Kettering, vice-president of General Motors; Myron C. Taylor, chairman of United States Steel Corporation; the late Alfred L. du Pont; Ed Wynn, the radio entertainer; Fritz Kreisler, the violinist, and Percy Crosby, cartoonist.

The committee proposed to lift the surtaxes on domestic personal holding corporations to 65 per cent of the undistributed net income in excess of $20,000 and 75 per cent on the amount above $20,000.

RAIL WORKERS GET 5 CENT WAGE HIKE

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The National Mediation Board announced last night settlement of a controversy resulting from a wage increase demand by 14 non-operating brotherhoods of railroad workers.

Otto S. Beyer of the board said the settlement provided for a wage increase of five cents per hour effective August 1st. The crafts had demanded an increase of 20 cents per hour in their basic rates of pay. Beyer said that the settlement provided an average of eight and one-half to eight and three-quarters per cent increase per hour.

The settlement covers between 750,000 to 800,000 rail employees in the non-operating crafts. On a basis of 1935 operations, the board said, the increase would amount to approximately $95,000,000 annually for the class one railways of the country.

BIG INCREASE IN THE GASOLINE TAX PAYMENTS

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Missouri motorists paid $5,484,542 in state gasoline taxes during the first six months of 1937, an increase of $265,555 over the same period of 1936, Roy H. Cherry, state oil inspector, reported last yesterday. June collections of $1,058,918 were nearly $26,000 more than in June a year ago.

CHICKEN DINNER AT HOUSTONIA FOR KIWANIS

Charles W. Green Gave An Interesting Talk on The State Fair

The Sedalia Kiwanis club had a very interesting meeting Wednesday night, when they met at the Christian church in Houstonia, and were served a delicious chicken dinner by the Houstonia Community club.

C. L. Hanley, club president, presided over a short business session, then the meeting was turned over to Hugo Sparr, program chairman. Mr. Sparr introduced members of the Houstonia male quartette, Messrs. Westbrook, Sewell, Freund and Jeffries, who accompanied by Mrs. Joe Williams, also of Houstonia, sang two songs.

The speaker of the evening was Charles W. Green secretary of the Missouri State Fair. He gave a brief history of the origin of fairs, coming down to the Missouri State fair, then telling in detail of plans for the 1937 exposition, which opens August 21. He told of the large number of entries, of the various and outstanding attractions, and plans to entertain the thousands of persons expected.

"PAPA" DIONNE HAS HIS DANDER UP

By The Associated Press.

CALLANDER, Ont., Aug. 5.—(Canadian Press)—Papa Olivia Dionne got his dander up today about quintuplet Emilie's sore throat.

He said he read Dr. Allan Roy Dafeo's statement that Emilie caught her cold from an "outside source" and made up his mind that Dr. Dafeo "was blaming us because Emilie got sick."

Besides, the quintuplet father complained, "We didn't even know she had it until some of those tourists told us Monday."

Dr. Dafeo answered that he did not mean it that way. Although he said he was certain the infection came from "someone outside" the nursery, he added that "I certainly didn't say one of the Dionne family."

Papa Dionne, who lives with his wife and six other children just across the road from the nursery, explained that he and Mrs. Dionne hadn't visited the quintuplets for more than a week before Emilie caught cold. Furthermore, he said, none of his family had been sick.

The father said that when he heard only four of the quintuplets were being "shown" Monday, he hurried to the nursery.

"A nurse told me that Emilie was sick with a sore throat and had a little fever," Dionne said. "I saw her through a screen."

It stood to reason, the father explained, that strangers who might be disease carriers brought Emilie her cold on one of the tourist excursions to the quintuplet nursery.

Also, Dionne said, he found out once that Yvonne had mumps and he wasn't told about it.

"That isn't true," Dr. Dafeo replied.

Unaware of the squabble, Emilie was able to sit on the veranda today. Dr. Dafeo said her temperature was back to normal and that she was getting along well.

DR. PARKER MAY BE NO 1 COMMUTER

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—The distinction of being Missouri's No. 1 commuter probably goes to Dr. Harry F. Parker, state health commissioner.

Twice a day Dr. Parker drives the 92 miles between his home town of Warrensburg and the capitol.

The trips, he says, not only afford him relaxation, but result in punctuality.

"I usually leave home about 6:30 in the morning and many times I'm the first one at the office. I've also noticed other commuters are among the early arrivals."

Many capitol employees commute daily from Columbia, Fulton, California and other central Missouri towns.

SENATE UPROAR OVER A CIRCULAR ON HOUSING BILL

Clark and McNary Denounce Distribution
In Chamber

WAGNER ASSUMES "RESPONSIBILITY"

Senator Black Petitions
Special Session On Farm
Legislation

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Circulation to senators by page boys of a statement urging reconsideration of an amendment to the Wagner housing bill caused an uproar in the chamber today.

Circulation of the statements, called "propaganda" by Senator Clark (D-Mo) was denounced both by the Missouri senator and Senator McNary, Republican leader. Clark made a point of order against the procedure.

Senator Pittman (D-Nev) president pro tempore, who was presiding, ruled the pages could not be blamed, and that if any blame attached to the matter it should be laid to the senator who had ordered the distribution.

Senator Wagner (D-NY), author of the housing bill, quickly assumed "full responsibility." He said he had not believed there was anything "improper" in the procedure and thought "any enlightenment on the issue was 'perfectly proper'."

The statement was issued by the American Federation of Housing authorities, the housing legislation information office, the labor housing conference and the National Association of Housing Officials.

Urged Reconsidering

It was marked "concurrent in by the American Federation of Labor and the building trade department of the American Federation of Labor."

The circular urged the senate to reconsider its 40 to 39 vote yesterday adding an amendment by Senator Byrd (D-Va) to limit the cost of housing projects, exclusive of land, to $1,000 a room or $4,000 a unit.

Clark said the process in distributing the literature involved "employing the machinery of the senate to cover senators' desks with propaganda."

McNary asserted that acceptance of responsibility for distributing the statement by Wagner "does not cover the case."

The Republican leader said it was "the boldest attempt to influence legislation I have seen in 20 years in the senate."

The statements were distributed to senators in personally addressed envelopes, accompanied by letters signed by Landson Post, as president of the American Federation of Housing Authorities.

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 5.—Coroner J. P. Ferguson said today he was unable to place blame on either driver for a school bus-truck collision here last night and announced no inquest will be held.

TENTATIVE SETUP IN COMPENSATION ACT ARRANGED

Start By Unemployment
Division Be With a
Staff of 55 to 60

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—A tentative outline of the setup for administration of Missouri's huge new unemployment compensation system was given out today by the three-member commission in charge of putting the act into effect.

Meanwhile commissioners and their office staffs are going through big stacks of applications for work under the new setup. Employees will be named on a temporary basis at first. Commissioner W. L. Patterson said, and later given merit examinations. The law provides for employment on a non-political basis.

Ultimately about 600 workers will be needed to administer the act, Patterson estimated, and it will cover 700,000 employees and 20,000 employers.

"During August and September, however, the unemployment compensation division will have between 55 and 60 employees," he said.

"This staff will be expanded as we begin collecting employer contributions, which will be about Oct. 1."

ENTITLED TO REFERENDUM

The gas tax referendum proposal is fast resolving itself into a verbal jumble of statements, contradictions and denials.

Matt F. Morse, secretary of the Automobile Club of Missouri and selected to head the referendum committee naturally has a job to do and has started an educational drive to obtain 65,000 petition signers. Being human Governor Stark has resented implications that he objects to the referendum, and in a prepared statement is not content with a positive denial but chooses to become vindictive. He asserts that Mr. Morse's statement "places the club in the same category as the oil interests which are fighting the tax law," and that the automobile club "is aligned against the farm to market road building program."

Governor Stark is a good salesman. He has sold himself to the people of Missouri, particularly by recent acts of executive judgment. But even a good salesman can talk himself out of a sale.

Of course the governor has nothing to fear from a referendum. The people are entitled to one if they desire it. But by heaping invective upon the automobile club it has all the earmarks of opposition camouflage to a pet measure the governor wants kept intact without public interference. Also the inference from oppositionists, that because the legislature passed the tax bill it was the voice of the people speaking, has no strength. Representative bodies before this have passed some inane legislation.

One of the principal oversights in the entire verbal wrangle is the argument that the proposed tax burden should be held in abeyance until the highway planning survey gives the facts upon which to furnish a future road building program. If it is important enough to spend $600,000.00 of the taxpayers money for this survey then why not await its recommendations. One of the most important questions being studied is the tremendous economic waste of the taxpayer's money by the numerous overlapping independent road building units.

If the citizens of Missouri want a referendum vote let them prepare the petitions and sign them. The newspapers are ready and willing to carry the propaganda load to explain the relative merits or demerits of the gas tax law submitted by those who have sensible opinions. But no good to either side can arise when the issues involved are clouded by indulging in personalities.

COMPLETING A CYCLE

Financial loss to the Missouri Pacific Transportation Company operating the Boonville-Versailles-Eldon bus line resulted from the extremely poor schedule maintained—and not so much because no passengers were available, is the opinion of citizens along the bus route.

At any rate the Public Service Commission has granted the transportation company permission to halt the service. Seventy-six years ago Jay Gould financed the building of a railroad branch line from Boonville to Eldon. Junking of this line was forced as a result of building all-weather highways. Now the bus line goes, completing the cycle of private transportation to public utility and back again to private conveyance. It's a far cry to horse and buggy days, the original private conveyance method.

Maybe they call it peanut politics because everything connected with it is in the bag.

DOG DAYS

These are fine nights to lie on the grass and study the stars, exclaims an admirer of the constellations. Yes, fine nights to discover a cool spot indoors for restful slumber, too. Good Missouri friends say this is pleasant weather we are having this summer—then proudly relate how they survived the blistering 110 degrees of a year ago.

But to newcomers from the cool hills of the east, the present Missouri weather is downright debilitating. However, it is pleasant to lie in the grass and study the skies, night after night as clear as one could ever desire for star-gazing.

A Pennsylvania friend reminds us that the ancient Greeks believed the stars had an important influence on their daily lives. And we still have a few such believers as astrologists find to their profit.

To this day when we speak of the "dog days" of summer, we are referring to an ancient belief that the July and August heat was caused by the rising with the sun of the constellation of the Great Dog in which lies the bright star Sirius.

Usually dog days are scheduled between July 3 to August 11—that is, 20 days before and 20 days after the conjunction with the sun. As the equinoxes continue along their "precession," so does Sirius move with his dog days around the seasons.

ADVISING ALL AUTHORS

From the Pittsburgh Press.

A Los Angeles man recently won fame of sorts by writing a novel in which he did not once use the letter "e." A Georgia author has rivaled this achievement by producing a book in which every word begins with the letter "s."

It has been suggested that, still more remarkable, some newspaper columnist ought to try turning out a day's production without employing the capital "I." That, probably, is too much to expect. Indeed, we are constrained to offer a few words of advice to writers who may be inspired by the feats of the Los Angeles litterateur and the Georgia genius.

Such striving seems stupid, strained, superfluous. Sedulous scribes should show sanity, soundness, sobriety; should select suitable subjects, syllables, sentences; should seldom sacrifice sense seeking sensational satiety. Scorn sibyllant scintillation; stop silly stunting! Start saying something.

SOUTHERN PRESS ON LYNCH LAW

From the Bristol (Tenn.) Herald-Courier.

A few years ago, few if any Southern newspapers favored a Federal anti-lynching law. Southern newspapers opposed such legislation on the ground that it would infringe the rights of the states. But the newspapers were honest and sincere in their position. They deplored mob lawlessness as strongly as any of their Northern colleagues, and, while opposing Federal legislation on the subject, they called upon the states to set their faces sternly against the mob and stamp out the evil of lynching.

Today, many if not most of the Southern newspapers advocate a Federal anti-lynching law because they have despaired of the suppression of mob lawlessness by the states.

It is significant that newspapers of a state that apparently has suppressed the mob have joined other Southern newspapers in support of the Federal anti-lynching bill which has passed the House and is now before the senate. Lynching is almost exclusively a Southern problem. Virginia is a Southern state, and the newspapers of Virginia are interested in wiping out an evil that is a disgrace to the South.

Whatever it is that women's hats are made of, there is prospect of accumulating a large surplus this year.

The DAILY WASHINGTON MERRY GO ROUND

WASHINGTON—The inside story of William Green's rescue of the wages and hours bill in the Senate gives you an idea of how much the House of Representatives will be called upon to modify that measure.

Had it not been for the mid-mannered little President of the American Federation of Labor, the bill now would be as dead as the six-judge Supreme Court bill. Roosevelt can thank Green and no one else.

What is more, Green's support not only was decisive, but it was an act of real courage.

There have been times when certain White House moguls privately have spoken disparagingly of Green's courage. But on this test, when not only would it have been easy, but to his personal advantage, to have ducked, Green went down the line 100 per cent.

It required nerve on Green's part because a powerful group in his own Executive Council was diametrically opposed to him. Led by John P. Frey, pugnaeous boss of the Metal Trades department, this group had stormed the Senate, and had the wages and hours bill practically defeated.

Their action constituted the first time in the history of the A. F. of L. that members of its Executive Council have openly gone over the head of their President and opposed him on a major legislative question.

What made it doubly courageous of Green to oppose them was the fact that he no longer has his membership in the United Mine Workers, also lacks rank-and-file support inside the Federation. Therefore, to retain office he must depend on the goodwill of his Executive Council.

Nevertheless, when Roosevelt hurriedly summoned Green and asked him to save the bill, he did not stall or spar. His reply was straightforward.

"I want to be frank with you Mr. President," he said. "The bill is not in a satisfactory form. It was considerably revised in committee and is not the legislation I endorsed when I appeared before the committee. However, I don't want to do anything to hurt you."

"You ask me to extend a helping hand, and out of friendship and good to you I shall do so. But, again, I want to be frank. I shall do so on the understanding that if the bill is not revised in the House to meet our demands I shall be free to disapprove of it."

Previously, the late Anning Pratt, chairman of the Federal Communications Commission, was considered friendly to W.L.W. but with his death, Commissioner George Payne is reported to be preparing a drive to reduce the Crosey Radio station's tremendous wattage to that of its competitors—another reason why Crosey hired Michelson.

YOU'RE TELLING ME

THE FIRST citizen of Mars turned to the Captain of the Star Gazers and asked: "Tell me what is the result of your survey of the planet Orth you have just made through the medium of our new 200-lens telescope. Is it inhabited by human beings?"

The captain looked sad but said: "Orth is a beautiful and fruitful planet, warm and pleasant instead of chill and grim as is our own. Game and grain abound in its many lands and the seas also teem with food. And everywhere I saw men who looked like us."

"But on a peninsula of one of the continents," he continued, "a war is going on." "Between animals and men?" the First Citizen suggested. "No," the captain replied, "between men and men—of the same white race!"

The First Citizen shook his head in wonder. The captain continued: "At the far end of another continent I saw another war in progress, again between men of the same race, but this time their skins were yellow."

The First Citizen gasped in shocked surprise. "Furthermore,"

HAY FEVER SEASON IS VERY NEAR

In about a week or two a million or more of our fellow citizens will begin to long for frost.

It is estimated that about two percent of the population has hay fever. But this does not include infants or children. In those who are destined to have it all their lives it seldom shows up before the age of fifteen. Why, is hard to explain. How many newcomers will there be in the hay fever fold this year? Poor things, what a puzzling experience for them.

Here they have been going along in the summer time just as comfortable as in the winter time, when bingo, on this August 15 or 16 or 17 they begin to sneeze and their eyes begin to burn and the back of their nose and throat feels as if they should have a rasp to scratch them. And all because the ragweed which has been growing so luxuriantly and on which no relief measure has been spent to cut it down, begins to cast its fairy dust upon the air. You never can tell when you are safe.

I know one man who had his first attack at 55.

As for the symptoms, many victims have given descriptions, none more eloquent than Henry Ward Beecher's.

"The nose sympathizes. Your handkerchief suddenly becomes the most important object in life. By the next day, the slightest draft or wind sets you to sneezing. It is a revelation. You never before even suspected what it was really to sneeze. If you look into the sunshine, you sneeze. If a little dust rises from the carpet, or the odor of flowers is wafted to you, or the smell of smoke, you incontinently sneeze. If you sneeze once, you sneeze twenty times. It is a riot of sneezes. First, a single one like a leader in a flock of sheep, bolts over; and then, in spite of all you can do, the whole flock, fifty by count, come dashing over in twos, in fives, in bunches of twenty."

Relief is more available now than formerly. Doctors used to refuse to handle these patients; they thought treatment of such a minor trouble was beneath them. It is a minor trouble only in the sense that people don't die from it. One doctor in New York, Dr. George M. Beard, actually had the nerve to say it was all imaginary.

Nowadays all doctors are ready to give advice to the hay fever victim. Not a few specialize in its treatment. The best remedy is the use of pollen vaccines.

Love is for Tomorrow

Sandy and Marcia had met quite by accident. The name of the girl's grandmother, in southern California, is an advertising executive who has been established in the city for some time. He is a talented commercial artist, employed by a rival firm in Los Angeles. After a week they fell in love. When Marcia shows so much enthusiasm for her work, they part in a huff and return separately to Los Angeles. Led to believe she was to be taken into Marcia's firm, Marcia is disappointed when she finds that one Wait Sanders, a girl at the office, has become a rival. Sandy becomes furious when he learns Marcia is working on the same account on which he has pinned high hopes. Marcia's firm wins the coveted account, but she feels badly because of Sandy's loss and goes to see him. At odds with Sandy again, Marcia accepts a night club invitation from Hartley, whom she mistrusts, and arranges to obtain Ellen Sanders, a girl at the office, for a friend of his, Tony Elliott. The four go to a party at Louisa's. In the crowd, Marcia meets a screen celebrity, Paula Stoddard, an art student. Marcia recommends Sandy Knight when Paula tells her she is seeking an opening in an advertising agency. Marcia calls on Sandy to suggest an account that her own agency has given up trying to obtain. Sandy hires Paula Stoddard and Marcia begins to show signs of jealousy.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY:

CHAPTER 16
THE NEXT two weeks brought many changes to the Acme office. Almost overnight it grew from a gangling ambitious young company to an affluent modern concern. Marcia was never sure just how much was due to Wait, how much Abe was responsible for. But in the vernacular of the day she saw that Acme had "gone Hollywood" with a vengeance.

A glance around the office would convince even the casual observer of the truth of this statement. Abe had leased two adjoining offices, carpeted the entire floor space in an elaborate green and gold plaid broadloom. Gold drapes framed the long windows, and modernistic furniture supplied the old work-worn desks and chairs. The crown-jewel as far as Marcia was concerned was the long mirror placed in the front office, now miraculously transformed into a waiting room. Glazed off from the main production office, it housed a dazeling blonde receptionist, who chewed gum with wholehearted ardor while she indiscriminately disconnected calls coming through the switchboard on her desk. Marcia was her name.

The files were moved into a business-like cubicle where Ellen was enthroned, while a back room held the growing supply of cuts, scraps, and miscellany. The neatness of the new offices was commendable, but as for the taste—Marcia shuddered. Abe had not consulted her, nor had Wait.

She retained her original office, and was grateful for its cheerful disarray. Obstensibly, she refused to make a showcase of her private domain and had Abe repeat the glass walls of her office with knotty pine panels. Behind this protective barricade she worked harder than ever before in her life, and with less pleasure.

True, Abe reluctantly raised her salary when the costly display in his office proved beyond doubt that the company was prospering. Marcia was more thrilled when she received mention in Western Advertiser for some of her original designs for Char-Ming. That the ads were pulling, the gratified executives had assured her. But that they were good enough to win her acclaim over the strict competition in the field was indeed high praise.

During lunch at the coffee shop downstairs, Marcia overheard something that sent her running post-haste to Ellen.

"Ellen, I know you love this company as much as I do, or did," she corrected herself quickly. "And I'm sure you have as many ethics about the advertising profession as anyone I know. That's why I want to ask—"

"Marcia dear, what's the trouble? You look as if you expected to be shot at sunrise."

"Well, I'm half shot, anyway, and that's the truth," she admitted with a shiver. "Ellen, have you ever heard anyone refer to the 'A-B-Z' methods?"

"A-B-Z? No, what does it mean?" she replied in a puzzled tone.

"Think. A-Bee-Zee—Abe E. Zimmerman. Do you see?"

"Yes, but what's so desperate about that?"

"I just heard some printer threaten Abe's life if he didn't lay off him with those A-B-Z methods. He meant it, too, Ellen. He looked capable of carrying out his threat. Now, do you know any reason why a man would have such a grievance against Abe? Think."

She surveyed herself in the mirror.

Ellen was silent, pondering upon the amazing statement. Marcia had made. Suddenly she saw Marcia start and say, almost beneath her breath, "Sandy. He said it too, that day in his office. Something about winning accounts on merit, not—"

Oh, Ellen, I couldn't stand it if I thought Abe had resorted to underhanded methods, after all the high ideals and ambitions we—I—had in the beginning."

The two girls discussed the puzzling problem for some time, before deciding it was unfair to condemn Abe on the mumbled words of a man neither of them knew.

Most of the hinging point through Ellen's hands and while she had noticed some ridiculously low bids on many jobs, she attributed it to Abe's shrewd bargaining and nothing else.

"Let's not jump to conclusions, Marcia," she said reasonably. "Why not come to dinner with us, and forget your troubles?"

"Us? Whom do you mean?"

With some embarrassment Ellen admitted she had been seeing quite a good deal of Tony. "I didn't tell you because you didn't seem to like him, but he really is a fine person, Marcia. I wish you'd come with us. I'd like you to know him better."

Marcia agreed, but left the office at an early hour because she was unable to concentrate on her work. On the way home she stopped at Antoine's and indulged in the luxury of a facial and an "individualized" coiffure. When she left the beauty salon, refreshed and decidedly chic, she felt like a different person. She dressed with unusual care for the dinner with Ellen and Tony, wondering the while how seriously Ellen was interested in him.

When she completed her toilet, she surveyed her reflection in the mirror. Her dress was a new fall model, of rich hunter's green color with a dull gold thread shining through. The shimmering tones were a compliment to her warmly tinted hair, and as she placed her jaunty new hat at a daring angle, she wished suddenly for Sandy.

Only he could be with her now, make a fourth at the dinner. Her mind on Sandy, she was more than startled when she finally answered the door and found not Ellen but Wait on her doorstep.

"I'm the Fuller brush man," he said, holding up a bouquet of flowers. "I thought maybe a little Indian broom might be acceptable."

"A bachelor button is more logical," she said, resentful that he should have arrived at so inopportune a moment. Unwrapping the tissue, she discovered a fragrant

GREEN BAY, Wis., Aug. 5.—(AP) The fish that got away from Merle Koeppler, was just plain dumb—it bit twice.

Merle, who was making his initial attempt at fishing on Green Bay, had his fish on the line, but it got away, hook, line and sinker. Mrs. Koeppler, to assuage her son's disappointment, made a rash promise. "Never mind," she said, "mother will catch it for you."

A short time later she landed a fish, in it were the missing hook, line and sinker.

MUCH INTEREST IN FAIR MUSIC CONTEST

In accordance with the growing popularity of the annual music contests at the Missouri State Fair, Mrs. Harvey MacGugin, superintendent of the department, has reported a widespread interest being shown in these special contests to be held during the 1937 State Fair, August 21-28.

Those entries in voice competition will be judged on Tuesday morning, August 24; piano solos and dual pianos, Wednesday, August 25; violin solos and ensembles, Thursday morning and afternoon, August 26.

Last year, 225 persons participated in the various contests of the State Fair music department, with 133 class entries in the various sections. As many as 36 persons competed in a single division of the contests.

Although music premiums were announced late this season, there is said to be every indication of another, large list of entries for every division of the contests at this year's fair, and every effort is being made to popularize the events among leading musicians throughout the state.

All music entries will close on August 17.

E. W. Jones is attorney for the plaintiff.

Calf Feeding

Creep-fed calves started on grain before they go on grass will continue to go into the "creep" to eat, even though they run with the cows in the pasture, according to the College of Agriculture, University of Illinois. Equal parts by measure of shelled corn and whole oats make a good feed for calves. About 20 bushels of grain and 200 pounds of hay may be eaten by a calf up to weaning time in the fall, when they are usually sold at weights of about 700 pounds at nine or ten months of age.

Young Turkey Ration

The Missouri College of Agriculture reports good results from this economical ration for growing poulters: For the first 8 to 10 weeks, supply a mixture of 210 pounds of yellow corn meal, 75 pounds of bran, 50 pounds shorts, 25 pounds alfalfa leaf meal, 50 pounds meat scrap, 50 pounds soy bean meal, 25 pounds dried milk, 5 pounds salt and 10 pounds cod liver oil. This ration is kept before them all the time, with water and granite grit.

Oats for Hay

In cases where oats are to be used for hay this season, the Missouri experiment station recommends cutting with a grain binder rather than a mower. Oats cut with a mower lose color under the sun's rays and considerable trash may be raked up with them. If a binder is used, adjust the mechanism so that loose bundles are made. When shocking, set up not more than three bundles in a place. Small shocks make for rapid curing.

Eggs are imported into the United States in the form of shell eggs; whole eggs, dried; whole eggs, frozen; dried and frozen yolks; and dried albumen.

EIGHT ARRESTED IN COUNTERFEIT RING

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—Secret service agents Wednesday completed a roundup of seven men and a woman they said were responsible for half the counterfeit money being circulated in the country.

Captain William H. Houghton said the group supplied bogus money to operators in Baltimore, Kansas City, Cleveland and other cities and to sailors who passed the bills to American tourists abroad.

The arrests climaxed four months of investigation by a west coast secret service agent who came here posing as a fugitive from justice and wormed his way into the confidence of the ring, telling them he sent counterfeit money to a girl friend out west to dispose of.

The first of the prisoners was taken Saturday in a raid which Houghton said yielded $17,000 in counterfeit money.

Agents working independently Sunday seized a second man who allegedly received a consignment of 99 spurious $10 bills to sell to sailors, and three more persons were arrested the next day when they called at his home.

The last member of the group was taken Wednesday.

Houghton said the arrests disclosed evidence that the group had connections with the narcotics and vice rackets, including one file of 1,000 prospective customers for "party girls," in Philadelphia, Pasais, N. V. and Long Island.

HARMONY STAG REPAID BE HELD BY DEMOCRATS

Dinner Outwardly Be a Tribute To The New Majority Leader

By The Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—Democratic senators will get together next week around a banquet table in an informal attempt to restore party harmony, shattered by the court reorganization dispute and the wage-hour bill.

They invited President Roosevelt and Vice President Garner to be their guests at a stag dinner. It was arranged by a committee representing both sides in the recent court fight.

Senators, describing the party as spontaneous, said they hoped the president can attend and will speak.

Garner, who was active in bringing about the truce that resulted in shelving the court bill, was chosen to preside. The only Democrat not invited was Senator Hattie Caraway of Arkansas.

"I never yet have gone to a stag party," she commented.

Senator McKellar of Tennessee is chairman of the affair and Senator Lee of Oklahoma is secretary. Other committee members are Moore of New Jersey, Truman of Missouri, and Burke of Nebraska, a leader of the court bill foes.

The dinner, outwardly a tribute to the new majority leader, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, is the second "love feast" of congressional Democrats this summer.

All Democrats in the senate and house were invited late in June to a series of picnics on Jefferson island in Chesapeake bay.

President Roosevelt and cabinet members also were present.

Although those who attended said there was little serious discussion of legislative problems, several expressed the belief party ranks had been bound more closely together.

The climax of the court fight, however, developed shortly afterward. When it had been settled, some southern Democrats revolted against the wage-hour bill. It was approved 56 to 28.

Besides the differences of opinion on those issues, some senators have expressed concern over the possibility of reprisals against those who opposed the court reorganization program.

Democratic Chairman James A. Farley, however, told an audience last night at Akron, Ohio, that such talk is "a piece of moonshine."

"This administration is concerned with bringing back and perpetuating prosperity," he said. "It has no time for vendettas."

The "strong man" acknowledged overwhelming handicaps in the struggle, but declared Nanking was "swamped" with nationwide indications of a determination to resist further Japanese encroachment.

tion signed by forty-one senators today urging a special session of congress in the fall to enact general farm legislation.

The petition was signed chiefly by Democrats and Independents. It said the signers felt it would be "unwise" to wait until January to enact farm legislation because farmers making preparations for their crops should know what laws would be on the books ahead of that time.

Black presented his petition to the senate shortly after a group of southern Democrats said after a White House conference that President Roosevelt had reiterated his stand that crop control legislation should precede a renewal of crop loans.

Signers of the senate petition said they felt congressional committees should study farm legislation and be ready to report by October 15 and congress should begin consideration of the legislation at that time.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 5.—(P)—Fervent appeals by Senator Byrd (D-Va.) induced the senate Wednesday to put a $4,000 limit on each home to be built under the Wagner low-cost housing bill.

The Virginia advocate of economy warned legislators against a repetition of the expenditures of the resettlement administration. Declaring this agency had spent $16,182 for each unit at "Tugwelltown," a housing project at Greenbelt, Md., Byrd said:

"It is a willful waste of money such as has never occurred before in any civilized country of the world."

Then, by a 40 to 39 vote, the chamber adopted the Byrd amendment, which would withhold federal loans or subsidies from projects costing more than $4,000 a family unit, or $1,000 a room.

After the day's long debate, the senate found it could not get to a final vote today on the housing measure. It adjourned until tomorrow.

The amendment had been fought vigorously by Senator La Follette (Prog-Wis.) an others who contended it would "paralyze" the housing program or kill it.

Later the senate plunged into new controversy over a proposal by Senator George (D. Cal.) to limit the life of the housing authority to three years.

"Unless you put this limitation on the act," George asserted, "you will have state socialism now and forever."

But the amendment was defeated, 47 to 33.

During his criticism of Tugwelltown, Byrd said President Roosevelt, had given "public approbation" to the project recently.

When Senator Wagner (D. N.Y.) pointed out an amendment adopted earlier would give the president authority to approve loans and grants made under the bill, Byrd advised Wagner "the best thing you can do to improve this bill is to safeguard expenditures so this money will not be wasted and squandered under other eyes as has been done."

He contended $4,000 was enough to spend on a home "for a man who wants to get out of a slum."

He declared the bill would start "one of the most expensive undertakings in history."

The measure would authorize a $700,000,000 bond issue over the next three years and a $26,000,000 appropriation with which to make loans and grants to state and local housing authorities for slum clearance and new dwelling construction.

UNIFORMS FOR CAPITOL JANITORS

By The Associated Press.
JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—What the well dressed janitor in Missouri's capitol building will wear was demonstrated to Gov. Lloyd C. Stark and newspaper men in the executive's office today.

It turned out to be a military type uniform in French gray, with bright blue piping on coat lapels and shoulders, a stripe of the same color down the trousers, and four black buttons on the coat front.

"The board of the permanent seat of government thought the janitors not only would look better but would do better work and be better janitors if placed in uniforms and given a daily inspection," said the governor, a graduate of the U. S. naval academy and a former officer both of the navy and the army.

Adjutant General Lewis M. Means and Carl Novinger, commissioner of the permanent seat of government, supervised the showing, with a Negro member of the staff as the model.

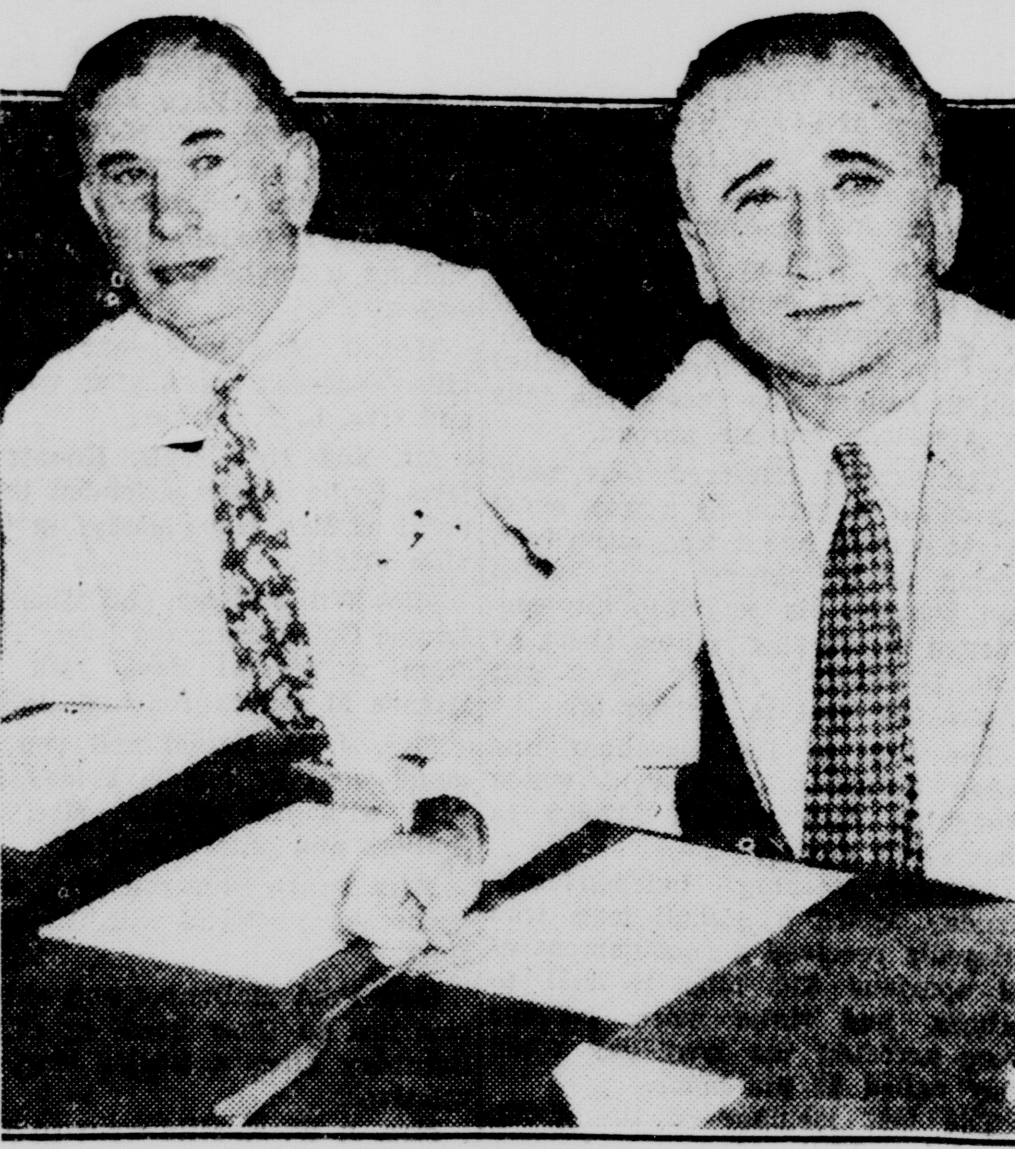

A jaunty overseas cap, also blue-trimmed, completed the outfit for the style showing, but the governor decided against it and in favor of a cap of the type army and navy officers wear, with the Missouri insignia on the front.

Guards, guides, watchmen and elevator operators also will be uniformed as part of the governor's effort to spruce up the state's beautiful $4,000,000 capitol building, but their uniforms will differ from that of the janitors.

The daily inspection will be conducted by Commissioners Novinger and the governor added: "If the uniforms are dirty it will be just too bad for the wearer."

The Want Ad columns of The Democrat are the get-together place of Sedalia people.

CORRIDOR-CAMPERS ARE "SITTING IT OUT"

By The Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Mo., Aug. 5.—The two score corridor-campers in the Oberman garment factory here arose from their beds of improvised benches and cots today and resumed their chairs, determined to "sit it out" for weeks if necessary.

The campers have been in the main hall of the plant, one of the largest pants factories in the midwest, since early yesterday when they reported for work to find their timecards had been seized because they refused to join the Springfield Oberman Employees' Association.

The SOE, an independent union within the plant, obtained a closed shop contract from the company last week. The deadline for non-members was set at yesterday by Frank E. Minkus, SOE president and plant machinist's helper. Minkus said that 893 of the plant's 1,000 employees are SOE members.

"Let them sit as long as they want," Jake Krantzberg, plant manager, said today. He promised to buy their supper tonight.

"I want them to be comfortable," he said. "I told the night watchman so."

The campers, all women but one, renewed their cry today to either be hired or fired. Neither the management nor Minkus would take the responsibility, the plant manager claiming that since signing the closed shop contract he no longer had jurisdiction to fire them. Minkus claiming it wasn't necessary to tell them.

ORDER CARS OUT OF CAPITOL BASEMENT

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—Automobiles other than those of the six executive state officials were ordered out of the state capitol basement today, to protect the health of office and other workers quartered there because of lack of space elsewhere in the building.

The ruling was made by the board of the permanent seat of government.

State Auditor Forrest Smith said three of the 17 members of his staff who work in the basement have been made ill recently by exhaust fumes.

Trucks will be allowed to enter the basement for deliveries only if motors are shut off immediately, Smith said.

While the state officials, who compose the governing board, gave themselves permission to drive inside, they agreed they would use the privilege "only in cases where it seems absolutely necessary," Smith said.

ESTATE TO CREATE 50 MILLIONAIRES

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—Sometime after 1950 a man now dead will create approximately 50 millionaires.

He is William Rockefeller, who died in 1922 and left the principal of a $50,000,000 estate to be distributed among his great-grandchildren. William is a brother of the late John D.

The estate, growing in capital value at a million-a-year clip, is now estimated by Surrogate James A. Foley at $63,713,889. In addition, since 1922, the estate has paid $9,514,834 in interest to William Rockefeller's four children—only one of whom survives—and fourteen grandchildren.

The brother of America's oil king before his death decreed that his estate should be kept intact for division among his great-grandchildren. His children and his grandchildren, meanwhile, were to enjoy the interest.

To carry out his plan the estate, administered by trustees, was divided into four equal parts—a fourth for the descendants of each child. The amount each great-grandchild will get thus depends upon the total number of grandchildren born in whichever of the four branches he stems from.

Today there are 28 great-grandchildren of William Rockefeller, only two of them over 14 years of age. Birth records of the family indicate there will probably be a total of 50. Each great-grandchild will receive his portion when his parents die.

Revival Series

A protracted meeting will start at the Providence Baptist church Monday evening at 8 o'clock, August 9, and will continue for two weeks, or longer if interest justifies. Every body is invited to hear Rev. G. M. Baker, of Sedalia, who will deliver the messages. Clint Hardin, of Sedalia will lead the singing, and there will be special music each evening.

Segregate Roosters

In order to protect the interior quality of eggs, roosters should be removed from the breeding pen as soon as the hatching season is over. If the male remains with the hens, the eggs will be fertile, and if a fertile egg is held at a temperature ranging above 68 degrees Fahrenheit, the germ will develop. A fertile egg will deteriorate much more rapidly than an infertile egg. An infertile egg seldom rots, but a fertile egg will decompose rapidly.

provided," the report said, "without enabling wealthy individuals to escape substantial taxes through the formation of multiple personal holding companies."

In addition, the committee suggested that deductions allowed such companies be altered broadly, and some revoked entirely.

With regard to taxing undistributed net income of foreign personal holding companies as though already distributed to American owners, the committee said it was recommending "a method of taxation which is a departure from any previously used with respect to corporate income."

"The committee feels, however," the report added, "that this innovation is necessary to protect the revenue and prevent further use of one of the most glaring loopholes now existing."

Thereupon the committee proposed that tax laws should be revised to encourage dissolution of foreign personal holding firms "as promptly as possible."

The major recommendation here was that in the liquidation of any foreign personal holding firm not completed by the end of this year, 100 per cent of the gains from the liquidation should be taken in account in computing net income.

Under existing law it is possible for as little as 30 per cent of the gain to be taken into account in computing net income.

Asserting it found no justification for incorporation of yachts and country estates, the committee suggested that they be handled by revising the definition of personal holding corporations.

It also urged that deductions from gross income should not be allowed for expenses of operation and maintenance of property owned or operated by a holding company to the extent the expenses exceed net or compensations, unless it is established that the compensation is the highest obtainable, that there was reasonable expectation of profit, that the property was necessary to the conduct of the business, or that it was held in the course of business carried on for profit.

The committee said these changes would have the effect of placing the personal holding company on the same basis as an individual who cannot offset his personal expenses against his income.

Incorporated talents would be treated similarly. Here again the committee would redefine personal holding companies and include in income the full amount received by the corporation from contracts for personal services of any individual who, with his family and partner, directly or indirectly owned 25 per cent or more in value of the outstanding stock.

RANGER WINS AGAIN TO KEEP YACHT CUP

By The Associated Press.

ABOARD COAST GUARD CUTTER, OFF NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 5.—Gaining her lead on a record ten mile windward leg and holding it safe over the rest of the 30-mile triangular course, Harold S. Vanderbilt's sleek, snub-nosed Ranger today led T. O. M. Sopwith's Endeavour II, the British challenger, across the finish line by approximately half a mile to score her fourth and deciding victory in defense of the America's cup.

Thus Vanderbilt, who piloted Enterprise to victory over the late Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock V in 1930 and skipped Rainbow in her triumph over Sopwith's first challenger, Endeavour I, in 1934, became the first amateur yachtsman to defend the international yachting trophy successfully three times.

Charlie Barr sailed Reliance and Columbia in the Winniepeg defenses of 1899, 1901 and 1903 against the first three of Lipton's Shamrocks, but Barr was a professional skipper.

In addition, Vanderbilt's triumph today gave him a record of eight straight against Sopwith. After losing the first two races of the 1934 series to Endeavour I, Rainbow came back to win the next four. Added to those were the four straight Ranger won in the current series.

Ranger today finished officially at 2:47:49 p. m. (1:47:49 C. S. T.) with an elapsed time of 3 hours, 7 minutes, 49 seconds that bettered the previous record for a 30-mile triangular course. That was set at 3 hours, 9 minutes, 1 second by Endeavour I in her second victory over Rainbow on September 18, 1934.

Endeavour crossed the line at 2:51:26 p. m. (1:51:26 C. S. T.) trailing by three minutes and 37 seconds, closest she has finished to the white-hulled defender in any of the four races.

DIONNE QUINS' SHOW IS GREAT ATTRACTION

A curious world looks on in amazement as the Dionne Quintuplets continue to hold their place in the spotlight. The first year the famous babies rated first page news because of their valiant struggle for life. The second year it was interesting to watch them develop individual characteristics. And today they are still the center of world-wide interest with statisticians wondering if 1937 visitors will break last year's record attendance.

It is said that approximately 375,000 persons witnessed the world's greatest show at Callendar, Ontario, the summer of 1935, and that last summer there were more than 500,000 visitors. During one month alone, July, 1936, there were reported 141,342 sightseers, arriving in 39,216 automobiles and 67 buses. It is estimated that of these 70 per cent came from the United States. Weather permitting, the famous five put on a show twice a day throughout the spring, summer and autumn, and sometimes in the winter. A diffused glass screen keeps the visitors unseen by the Quins, and at a distance.

All of the visitors are amazed at the amount of vitality shown by the Quins. One reason for their amazing vitality is their diet. For example, the cereal chosen for the Dionne Quins is Quaker Oats, rich in Vitamin B. And Vitamin B is important in combating those childhood dangers, constipation, nervousness, and poor appetite when they are due to lack of that vitamin. And, too, Quaker Oats with milk is a fine source of body-building minerals, muscle-building protein and food-energy.

So the most famous babies in the world who thrive on Quaker Oats are splendid examples of what modern science and proper diet can accomplish in child-raising.

INDIVIDUAL CAKES HANDY FOR PICNICS AND SNACKS

(By Mrs. Mary Morton)

Menu Hint
Iced Pineapple Juice
Breaded Veal Baked Potatoes
New Carrots
Lettuce, Radish, Green Onion Salad
Berries Silver Sponge Cake
Tea or Coffee

Cup cakes are a nice change from the large cake. They have the advantage of not having to be cut and so growing dry. They are especially nice to take on picnics or served for afternoon tea or the mid-night snack.

Today's Recipe
SILVER SPONGE CAKE—Whites

of five eggs, three-fourths cup sugar, one-half teaspoon cream of tartar, one-half cup bread flour, one teaspoon vanilla. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and dry and gradually add sugar, mixed and sifted with cream of tartar, beating constantly. Sift flour into mixture, add vanilla and cut and fold until blended. Fill greased individual tins two-thirds full of mixture, sprinkle with powdered sugar and bake in moderate oven.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Discard Old Wash Day Traditions
Because tradition has designated Monday as wash day do you stick to it? Well, don't, if some other day of the week is more convenient for you, advises Katharine Fisher, director of Good Housekeeping Institute.

Unless you really wish to get through with all your washing on one day, there's no reason why you should not divide it between two days, Miss Fisher says. Women who have young children often find it convenient to do a small washing every other morning.

Another old tradition that is outworn, says Miss Fisher, is the custom of soaking clothes overnight. Much of your washing isn't really soiled at all, she points out. Your sheets, pillowcases, and many other things are only mused, and in washing and ironing them you are just freshening them. Children's play clothes, that soiled edge on men's soft collars, and other soiled garments can be washed more easily after a preliminary soaping instead of a soaking before putting them into the suds.

And finally, don't let that third wash-day tradition—boiling clothes—wear you down any more, because boiling clothes, just like soaking clothes overnight, became outdated years ago. It belongs to the days when women toiled over the washboard, when electric washing machines and soaps that dissolve so quickly were not even a dream. Good Housekeeping Institute does advise you to boil handkerchiefs, though, concludes Miss Fisher.

Watercress Butter

One-half cup softened butter, one-half cup minced watercress, one teaspoon lemon juice, one teaspoon onion juice. Cream butter with watercress. When well blended, stir in lemon juice and onion juice. Nice for sandwiches.

Pork and Nut Sandwich

One and one-half pounds lean pork, one-half cup nuts, chopped; one-half cup celery, chopped; one-half cup sweet pickle, chopped; salad dressing to moisten. Let pork slightly moisten. Spread on slices simmer in hot water until tender, of buttered bread. Grind it or chop it very fine. When cool, add nuts, celery, and pickles. Add enough salad dressing to classified column at small cost.

By Mrs. Mary Morton
Menu Hint
Tomato Juice
Toasted Cheese Sandwiches
Radishes Young Onions
Olives Fresh Berries
Coconut Macaroons or White Cake with Marshmallow Frosting
Coffee

This is a menu which you can serve when you will. It will make a good luncheon menu for the home folk, a supper menu for any day, etc., and especially for Sunday night supper.

Today's Recipes
COCONUT MACAROONS—One cup brown sugar, one cup white sugar, one cup melted shortening, two eggs, well beaten; one cup coconut, one teaspoon vanilla, one teaspoon salt, one teaspoon soda, one cup sifted flour, four cups rolled oats. Mix in order given. Shape into small balls, with hands. Place on a greased cookie sheet and bake in 375-degree oven (moderate) for 15 minutes. Makes 100 small cookies.

WHITE CAKE—Two-thirds cup butter, two cups sugar, three and one-half cups cake flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon soda, one-eighth teaspoon salt, one and one-fourth cups irradiated evaporated milk, three tablespoons lemon juice, six egg whites, one-half teaspoon grated lemon rind. Cream butter. Add sugar and cream until sugar granules are dissolved. Sift flour, then measure. Resift with baking powder, soda and salt. Add flour and milk, to which the lemon juice has been added, alternately to the butter-sugar mixture, beginning and ending with flour. Fold in the stiffly beaten egg whites and the grated lemon rind. Bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) 25 minutes. This recipe makes four eight-inch layers.

BLACK RASPBERRY FLUFF CAKE—One tablespoon butter, one-half cup sugar, one egg, one cup flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one teaspoon vanilla. Topping—Two tablespoons sugar, one cup black raspberries. Cream butter and sugar, add yolk of egg, sifted dry ingredients and vanilla. Fold in beaten egg white. Turn into greased cake pan, sprinkle with sugar and spread with raspberries. Bake in a moderate oven for 25 minutes. This cake needs no frosting, although one may sprinkle generously with powdered sugar.

CREAMED EGGS OVER TOAST IS GOOD HOT WEATHER DISH

By MRS. MARY ROBERTSON
Menu Hint

Goldenrod Eggs Mashed Potatoes
Green Peas Beet Salad
Frozen Orange Souffle Hot Tea
A bit of chopped green pepper gives a nice flavor to the egg dish, which is a good breakfast as well as dinner dish.

Today's Recipes
GOLDENROD EGGS—Six hard cooked eggs, white sauce, toast. Boil six eggs until hard; separate whites from yolks. Make a white sauce and pour over and mix with chopped egg whites. Serve upon squares of toast, putting pulverized yolks on top. Serve hot.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Veal and Carrot Sandwich
Put equal parts of cooked veal and raw carrot through a food chopper. Add a little chopped celery, salt and pepper and enough cooked salad dressing to make mixture spread easily between thinly sliced, buttered bread.

Cooked Salad Dressing
One teaspoon salt, one teaspoon mustard, dash of cayenne, two tablespoons flour, two tablespoons sugar, two egg yolks, one cup irradiated evaporated milk, one tablespoon lemon juice, three tablespoons vinegar. Blend salt, mustard, cayenne, flour and sugar. Add egg yolks. Mix well, then add milk. Cook over boiling water until mixture thickens. Stir in the vinegar and lemon juice slowly. A few drops of onion juice may be added. This makes one and one-fourth cups.

Corn Meal Waffle Mix
Four cups pastry flour, three cups corn meal, four tablespoons baking powder, two teaspoons salt, four tablespoons sugar. Sift ingredients together and store in tight jar until ready to use. To serve for two or three, use one cup of waffle mix, add slightly beaten egg with three-quarters cup milk and two tablespoons salad oil or melted butter. Beat thoroughly and bake on hot ungreased iron.

Washing Berries
Never allow a strong flow of water to pass through berries to clean them. The water is likely to bruise them. Place them in a colander held under a light stream of water. Or, better yet, lift the colander up and down several times in a pan of cold water. Do not over-wash berries, or let them soak too long. They will lose much of their flavor.

SERVE BLUEBERRY MUFFINS FOR SUMMER LUNCHEON

By MRS. MARY MORTON

Menu Hint

Mixed Fruit Juice Cocktail
Creamed Tuna or Chicken
in Pastry Cases
Potato Chips or French Fried Potatoes
Fresh Green Peas
Lettuce With French Dressing
Olives
Ice Cream With Fresh Berries
Angel Food Cake
Coffee
Mash and sweeten the berries, set aside for awhile to chill, and pour over ice cream. The pastry recipe is taken from Fannie Merritt's Farmer's cook book.

Today's Recipes

BLUEBERRY MUFFINS—Two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, two tablespoons sugar, one teaspoon salt, one egg, one cup bowl, beat, add milk and butter, two-thirds cup blueberries. Grease 12 to 18 muffin pans, depending on their size. Sift flour, measure and return to sifter. Add baking powder, sugar and salt as each is measured. Break egg into mixing bowl, beat, add milk and butter, beating each in. Sift in dry ingredients. Stir just enough to mix well, but not to make the batter smooth. Add blueberries. Lift the batter by spoonfuls into the greased pans, filling them two-thirds full. Bake in a hot oven 425 degrees Fahrenheit, from 20 to 25 minutes.

FAMILY PASTRY—Mix and sift two cups pastry flour with one and one-half teaspoons salt and work in two-thirds cup lard, using the tips of the fingers. Moisten with one-half cup cold water, toss two-thirds of mixture on a slightly floured board. Pat and roll in rectangular shape. Spread with one

SUNDAY DINNER Suggestions

By ANN PAGE

PEACHES, pears, plums, new cooking apples, cantaloupe, and huckleberries are the outstanding fruit values this week. Vegetable prices, too, are attractive, with lima beans, beets, cabbage, carrots, celery, salad greens, peas, potatoes, squash and tomatoes the outstanding values. Eggs, cheese and fish complete the list of attractively priced fresh foods, for meats of all kinds continue to be high and promise to go higher. Vegetable plates garnished with eggs, cheese or fish; and fruit, or egg and milk desserts will help keep budgets in line.

tablespoon lard and dredge with flour. Cut in thirds lengthwise; pile strips one on top of the other. Fold in halves and then in quarters. Again pat and roll out, spread, dredge and fold as before. Cut in halves, turn over, having cut edges come on top. Pat and roll each piece to fit muffin tin, and bake until brown. Fill with chosen creamed mixture.

FACTS AND FANCIES

Thorough Sanding Necessary

Whether a seal, shellac, varnish, or paint finish is given a floor, a good sanding job before it is applied is imperative. If one plans to do the work oneself instead of engaging an expert floor finisher, and hasn't a sanding machine, it would be wise to rent one. Polishing machines are a big help, too, and make the work easier.

Fruit Bread

Three-fourths cup sugar, two eggs, beaten; one and two-thirds cups milk, two cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, one teaspoon salt, one-half cup each cherries, dates, currants, chopped fine; three-fourths cup chopped nuts. Combine in order given. Children like this bread in their lunches.

Fruited Ham Sandwich

Butter one slice of whole wheat or white bread and cover with slices of ripe banana. Spread second slice of bread with deviled ham and put sandwich together.

SALLY'S SALLIES

Two heads are better than one—especially if you sell hats.

ROAST LEG OF LAMB
WITH GALA GARNISH

By MARTHA LOGAN.

There was a story my father used to tell that always got a laugh. It seems that one day father gave Hans some cucumbers from the garden. Later he asked Hans how he liked the cucumbers. Hans said, "We no like 'em. We cook 'em and cook 'em, but we no like 'em." The story has lost its zest nowadays because we have found that cucumbers really are good if properly cooked. Perhaps they will always be most prized for their crispy, crunchy texture and cooling flavor, but in the recipe for baked cucumber boats with which we garnish the roast leg of lamb, we are careful to not cook the boats enough to spoil their characteristic texture.

Lamb and cucumbers complement each other to an especially fine degree. Of course, you have discovered that lamb is a good buy right now. Thrifty housewives are serving roast leg, loin, or shoulder of lamb, or broiled chops these days. Then too there are delicious casserole dishes using the less demanded lamb cuts. We want to give you several recipes for using lamb but first of all here's the recipe for roast leg of lamb with cucumber boats filled with fresh lima beans. And remember—these attractive little boats are something especially good as well as being a practical service suggestion.

To roast leg of lamb—first of all

Martha Logan Says - - Sandwiches May Be a Real Meal

You know how childhood impressions often last! Well, my youthful wonder at the grandeur of a Club House Sandwich served in a Tea Room on my first trip to "the city" has stayed with me. I still get a feeling of well-being when I see a 3-decker sandwich in all its garish glory.

Here's a new combination that, if served with fruit and beverage, makes a complete meal, and it is suitable for hot or cool days. Its flavor is superb—and why not? It's made of cooked ham, aged American cheese, and cold chicken. Of course, you may use a slice of that ready-to-serve delicious chicken loaf that we see in the better markets these days. What shall we name it to show how good it is? How about Martha's Special Club Sandwich? For each serving use:

3 slices hot French toast
Slice cooked ham 1/4 inch thick
1 slice aged American cheese
1 slice cold chicken or chicken loaf
Tart pickle
To Assemble: On a piece of hot golden brown French toast place in order a slice of ham, a slice of cheese, French toast, sliced chicken and French toast. Cut in half. Garnish with pickle and serve with tasty cold slaw.

get good quality lamb. We no longer remove the thin paper-like covering called the "fell" because it does act as a protection to keep the roast in shape and to hold in the juices. Sprinkle with salt. Place skin side down on a rack in a dripping pan. If you have a meat thermometer, insert the thermometer until the bulb reaches the fleshiest part, not touching either bone or fat. Bake in a slow oven (325 degrees F.) about 30 to 35 minutes per pound or until the roast meat thermometer registers 175 degrees F. for medium done, or 150 degrees F. for a well done roast of lamb.

When you remove the roast from the oven to make the gravy, increase the heat to 375 degrees F. and bake the cucumber boats which are made as follows: Pare cucumbers, cut in half lengthwise, and scoop out seeds. Fill with parboiled green lima beans. Dot with butter, salt, pepper, and bake in a moderate (375 degrees F.) oven until cucumbers are tender—15 to 20 minutes. Note: If canned lima beans are used, sprinkle with chopped parsley or mint before serving.

Ground Lamb Patties
1 pound ground lamb.
1/2 cup bread crumbs.
1 tablespoon chopped onion.
Seasoning.

8 slices bacon.
Combine lamb, crumbs, onion, and seasoning. Form into 1-inch thick patties. Fasten bacon strips around each patty using skewers or picks. Bake in hot oven or pan broil about 20 minutes. Serve with minted apple slices.

Lamb en Casserole
2 pounds lamb shoulder.
Flour for dredging.
Lard for browning.

12 small onions.
2 carrots.
4 potatoes.
1 cup string beans.
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce.
2 cups meat stock.
Have meat cut in 1-inch cubes. Dredge with flour and brown in hot lard. Season with salt and pepper and place in casserole. Also pile in casserole, whole small onions, sliced carrots, sliced potatoes, and cooked green beans. Add 4 tablespoons flour to fat in pan where meat was browned, and stir until the flour is browned. Add 2 cups meat stock and let cook until thickened. Season with Worcestershire sauce. Pour this over meat and vegetables and cook in a moderate oven until meat and vegetables are done, about forty minutes.

Mashed Potato Canapes of mashed potatoes at one end and spread strips of dried beef with roll. Secure with a toothpick and prepared mustard, place a spoonful broil. Serve hot as appetizers.

BOOSTERS TAKE SOFTBALL TITLE WITH A 5-3 WIN

Rosenthals Are Defeated in Deciding Game of Division Playoff

The Missouri Pacific Boosters won the championship of the National Division of the City Softball League last night at Liberty Park by defeating the Rosenthals, defending city titleholders, 5 to 3, in the deciding game of their best-of-five series before the largest crowd in the history of the sport here.

Some hard and timely hitting by Gus Shirley and Harry Light and brilliant pitching by Dick Hays in the pinches gave the shop boys their third victory in the five-game series which was necessitated when the two clubs wound up their regular schedules in a tie for the title.

The Boosters got away in front in the first inning when a base on balls to Lohague, an infield hit by "Rabbit" Shirley, Gus Shirley's timely double and an error produced three runs.

The Rosenthals picked up one run in the second, but the shop boys came back in the third for two more runs when Gus Shirley hit a homer and Light tripled.

Trailing 5 to 1, the Cloisters rallied in the fourth to push two runs across and fill the bases again with only one out, but Hays nipped the threat by striking out the next two men and he allowed only one enemy runner to reach base thereafter.

As the result of their triumph the Boosters will meet the Stewart Avenue Marketers, undefeated champions of the American Division, in a best-of-four out of seven series for the city championship starting Friday night.

The Sinclair Oilers nosed out the Columbia Club, 5 to 3, in a closely contested preliminary game.

CONTROL OF BOXING TO MIKE JACOBS BY LEASING OF GARDEN

NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—The varied destinies of the cauliflower industry passed today from the grip of Madison Square Garden which had held them since the reign of Tex Rickard, to Mike Jacobs, the man who parlayed a brown bomber and a punch into the dictatorship of the fight game.

Jacobs, in leasing for two seasons the Garden and its outdoor arena, the big bowl in Long Island City, assumed Rickard's old part as the fight game's No. 1 promoter. He plans indoor boxing shows for the Garden this winter and next and outdoor fights at the bowl in 1938 and 1939.

Jacobs, a ticket-broker, learned the devious business methods of the fight game as Rickard's partner in the halcyon days of the million dollar gates and the 600 millionaires. The shift in power from the Garden to Jacobs shows once more that the man who controls the heavy-weight title, by far the richest in the industry, controls big time boxing.

Jacobs picked up Louis when the bomber was almost unknown and brought him east for his first big fight against Primo Carnera. Since then he has sent the champion against Baer, Schmeling, Braddock and others. With the exception of the Schmeling bout, Mike's meal-ticket has been a winner. Always Louis has made money.

Jacobs now has the use of the Garden and the Hippodrome, where he staged shows last winter through his 20th Century Sporting Club. Outdoors he has the Yankee Stadium, the Polo Grounds and the Garden bowl, the three largest outdoor arenas in New York.

THE SPORTS ROUNDUP

By EDDIE BRIETZ
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—So Mike Jacobs moves into the Garden? Well, there wasn't much else to do. The big money in fighting is in the heavyweights and Mike has almost all the good ones in his pocket. . . . Louis, Braddock, Schmeling, etc. . . . The deal makes Jacobs absolute czar of the cauliflower ear industry. . . . They'll all have to call him uncle from now on. . . . Everyone is wondering what will happen to Jimmy Johnston, for years maestro at the Garden. . . . This corner predicts an early tieup between Jimmy and Jacobs which would be highly advantageous to all concerned.

Is it against the rules for the Yanks to hit a single any more? . . . Out in Chicago all they talk about is a world's series between the Cubs and Yanks. . . . The Los Angeles pro football team will try to buy Sammy Baugh, the forward passing expert of Texas Christian, from the Washington Redskins. . . . What's this, the Dodgers have a big trade cooking? . . . Properly handled, there is a bright future ahead of Sandy McDonald, the Dallas, Tex., heavyweight, who goes against Eddie Hogan in the Garden tonight.

Maybe you have often wondered what a ball player says to an umpire just before a run-in. . . . We can tell you what one said. . . . Down at Richmond, Va., the other day, a sandlotter told his Nibs: "I've been wanting to do this a long time." . . . And hauled off and socked the ump's squarely in the old kisser. . . . "Big Six" conference coaches all say to look out for Elmer Hackney, sophomore back at Kansas State this season. . . . They call him the "one man gang" and every coach in the conference will be pointing for him. . . . In Tommy Farr's book, Tommy Loughran of Philadelphia rates as the cleverest and smartest fighter the Welshman has ever faced.

We told you yesterday Mike Jacobs was walking fast again. . . . The Garden deal is the answer. . . . Dr. James Stotter, New York beauty specialist, rates boxing writers the best looking, with the rod and gun guys second and the racing writers, third. . . . The baseball writers (poor mugs) were a bad last. . . . What the eminent Mr. Sid Mercer and this writer (who cover both baseball and boxing) want to know is where we stand. . . . About 50 big league scouts (who passed him up as too old) refuse to read the box scores the day after Lou Fette pitches for the Boston Bees. . . . A western hotel refused to have Babe Hammerger (new road secretary of the Dodgers) paged in the dining room because it thought somebody was trying a rib.

Commodore Paul Mickelson is back from Newport where he has been mingling with the bloods. . . . He's a changed man. . . . When he bumps into you, instead of saying "Excuse me, mister," he gives you a haughty stare and says: "Sorry, old chap." . . . Don't be surprised if old Casey Stengel (big ears and all) bobs up as manager at Kansas City next season. . . . The Yank outfit, from Col. Ruppert down, is high on Casey. . . . Joey Archibald has been offered a title shot with N. B. A. Featherweight Champion Pete Sarron in Washington in October. . . . Vannie Albano, the Syracuse grid star, has signed to play pro football with the Brooklyn Dodgers.

YAWKEY'S MONEY IS TALKING AS RED SOX BOOST STREAK TO 9

By SID FEDER
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK, Aug. 5.—(AP)—That big money that Tom Yawkey threw into the Boston Red Sox is talking again.

Headed by a clouting comeback in Second-baseman Doc McNair and a lot of flinging ability still in the aging but agile left arm of Bob Grove, the Gold Sox—last year they were gold flops—haven't been beaten in nine starts. In their current home stand they have chalked up the longest winning streak under the Yawkey banner.

Big guns in this drive that has skyrocketed the Sox to a spot where they're flirting with second place have been four of Connie Mack's fancy-prices ex-Athletics—McNair, Jimmy Foxx and Pinky Higgins with their bats, and Grove with his baffling southpaw slants.

McNair, snapping out of his month-long cream-puff hitting slumps, has been belting the ball for a .405 average in the present ten-game drive. Foxx and Higgins are moving along at .382 and .359, respectively. The three of them have driven in 29 runs in the surge. Grove is breezing along on a personal three-game winning streak. Aiding this quartet are a couple of rookies, Outfielder Colonel G. Mills, and the ex-Oklahoma grid star, and Catcher Gene Desautels, who are paying first-year dividends with .357 averages for the ten games.

They started out the home stand by toppling the Browns in two out of three. Then they knocked off the Tigers in three games and tied a fourth. At present they're working on the Indians with the same success. They made it three straight over the Tribe yesterday with a doubleheader win, 8-6 and 6-5, as Foxx belted homers Nos. 27 and 28. This twin win left them just a game back of the second-place White Sox.

Clinton and Versailles Teams File Entries for District Softball Meet

The first entries for the district softball tournament which will be held here the week of August 16 were received Thursday by Donald Davenport, district commissioner for the Missouri Softball Association. The entries were those of the Clinton Jeeps and Versailles. The tournament which is open to teams from Pettis and nearby counties will qualify a team for entry in the state championship meet in September.

Last year's district meet was won by the Rosenthals of this city.

ATHLETICS TAKE ON ODESSA CLUB AT PARK TONIGHT

Visitors to Have Helms,
Patterson, Boesch in Starting Lineup

At 8:15 o'clock tonight the Sedalia Athletics will meet the Odessa Merchants under the floodlights at Liberty Park in a game which promises to be another hotly contested affair. Ned Verts, well known right-handed pitcher, will be on the mound for the Athletics with Summers catching. Bailey will be in reserve.

Wallace will do the pitching for the visitors with Helms the catcher. Helms caught for the Athletics here several seasons ago. Another former Sedalia Athletics player in the visitors' lineup will be Patterson and Boesch, former first baseman for the Windsor 75 club, will be on the initial sack.

Manager Palmer Nichols will probably use the regular Athletics lineup which is: Livengood, 1b; Lohague, 2b; Light, ss; Small, 3b; Case or Barnes if; Brownfield, cf; Zey, rf; Summers, c, and Verts, p. The probable lineup for the Merchants: Helms, c; Kahn, 2b; Pickle, lf; Patterson, ss; Boesch, 1b; Carter, cf; Gibbs, 2b; Moorehead, rf, and Wallace, p.

NEW 14-CLUB LIMIT ISN'T WORRYING A LOT OF GOLF PROS WHO FIGURE IT'S ALL IN THE SWING

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 5.—(AP)—Skyscraper Vic Ghezzi says clubs don't make golfers. No sir, it's vice versa.

And that's why the lanky par-busting professional and national ranking money winner from Deal, along with Craig Wood of Rumson, Johnny Farrell of Baltusrol and a flock of others, aren't worried by the U. S. G. A.'s ruling that after January 1 they'll have to pare their tool kits down to a 14-club limit.

"It's going to be a lot harder on the week-end golfer and duffer than it is on us," Ghezzi, recently crowned New Jersey open champion, opined.

"I've got twenty clubs—but I don't need them all. All any good golfer needs is three clubs—a wood, an iron and his putter—and you could put him in an unmowed hayfield and he'd still score seventy."

It's the average player that needs a club for every shot. We just make 'em and we use 'em. The top-notchers know all the tricks about a half-swing, a quarter-swing. They can use one club for all kinds of distances."

"So, it figures out this way: It don't mean a thing, if you ain't got that swing."

Ghezzi, winner of sundry tournaments, won the state open last week at Shackamoon Country Club with a 90-hole score, including a playoff, of 347, 13 strokes under course par.

Wood, one stroke worse, was runner-up. His sentiment on the 14-club limit almost duplicates Ghezzi's except that he thinks the setting of a regulation limit will spur the duffers to increase their club collections to capacity.

Wood used 18 clubs during the 4-day N. J. open.

Johnny Farrell carries the 14 limit these days and says they're plenty for him.

Ghezzi and the pros decided the rule may, momentarily slow down record breaking attacks in golf, but the good boys would soon get used to doing without their "pet" and "trick" clubs.

Anyhow, the worst that can happen is (a) there may be a second-hand golf club mart on every other street corner, and (b) tournament caddies will once again wear smiles and quit walking lopsided after "office" hours.

JOBLESS PLAN TO COVER 700,000

By The Associated Press.

JEFFERSON CITY, Aug. 5.—More than 700,000 Missouri employees—a higher number by 50,000 than any previous estimate—will be covered by the state's new unemployment insurance plan, Commissioner William L. Patterson estimated.

Patterson, one of three members of the commission administering the new law, said indications were about 20,000 employers would come under the act.

Our law provides that employers not required to come under it, may voluntarily do so," Patterson pointed out.

"We expect many employers of less than eight persons, or those in industries exempted, to come under the compensation plan through this provision."

CHOOSING THE RIGHT GRADE OF MOTOR OIL WILL INCREASE YOUR GASOLINE MILEAGE!

THE EFFECT OF MOTOR OIL CHOICE ON GASOLINE CONSUMPTION

CARS USING OIL OF SAE GRADE	AVERAGED THIS GASOLINE MILEAGE
10 (Light)	17.2 mi. gal.
20 (Light)	16.6 mi. gal.
30 (Medium)	16.3 mi. gal.
40 (Med. Heavy)	16.1 mi. gal.
50 (Heavy)	16.0 mi. gal.

This is a summary of records submitted by thousands of motorists, driving different makes of cars at all driving speeds, in Standard Oil's great Road Test last summer.

THERE'S a catch in this interesting fact. Lighter oil* does increase your gasoline mileage, and, if it's quality oil like Iso-Vis "D", is perfectly safe lubrication in hot weather. But it does require some additional oil between drains. The fact is, though, that the saving on gasoline more than offsets the slight extra oil cost.

If you're out to SAVE AS YOU DRIVE, that's an important fact to know. If you're trying to better your gasoline mileage, it's a vital fact to use.

The book "How to SAVE AS YOU DRIVE" is packed with facts like that—Easy things to do that can save you as much as 10% of your gasoline money!

*Never use lighter oil than the lightest grade recommended by the manufacturer of your car.
